

Dr Luu Bich Ngoc
Director
Institute for Population and Social Studies
National Economic University
Hanoi - Vietnam

Dr Luu Bich Ngoc is the Director of the Institute for Population and Social Studies, National Economics University in Hanoi - Vietnam. She is professional on Demography, Population - Development with the theme of population and reproduction health policy, migration and urbanization, education, health care system, gender, HIV/AIDS prevention and social care for people with HIV/AIDS, etc. Dr. Ngoc has chaired or served as principal researcher for the international and national research projects in the field of population and reproductive health, social issues. She used to be the, technical consultant for many international organizations such as the UN Population Fund (UNFPA), the Asian parliamentarians (AFPPD), the World Health organization (WHO). She was the Vietnamese coordinator of international research and training programs as: "Vietnam Population in 21st century: Demographic, public health and environmental aspects" (2011-2014); "Vietnamese family face HIV/AIDS" (2005-2010), etc. She received a Masters on Population Education of Hanoi National University, a Master in Public Health from the University of Copenhagen - Denmark and Ph.D. in Demography of the University of Paris Ouest Nanterre La Defense - Republic of France.